STEWART BUSINESS SYSTEMS ANNOUNCES PRINTEGRATION PROGRAM

Program offers businesses an average cost savings of 23%

BURLINGTON TOWNSHIP, NJ March 19, 2008-STEWART BUSINESS SYSTEMS, one of State of New Jersey's most successful and tenured office technology companies, is pleased to announce one of its most creative and beneficial cost containment programs to date.

Studies show that companies spend an average of 3%-9% of their total revenues on print production and device management. Most companies purchase print equipment, supplies and service from various sources and often have no idea of what they are spending to manage their imaging and output environments. IT support, loss of office productivity, ordering and help desk backlogs often inflate business expenses associated with printers that may be located throughout a company's floor plan.

STEWART BUSINESS SYSTEMS' Printegration™ assessment process has helped companies improve their operation and save real money. By identifying all devices and associated costs, Stewart's Printegration™ experts can assess and then make recommendations on device management, deployment or consolidation. Our defined process offers a streamlined way to assess their environment, optimize their infrastructure and provide ongoing services to their company.

The Printegration™ Program is a total end to end solution. Stewart's Printegration™ program is a total cost-per-page program that consolidates printer and copier supplies, parts, service and management into one manageable cost. A customer only pays for the pages that they print. Customers who are covered under Stewart's Printegration™ Program no longer needs to warehouse supplies, prepare separate purchase orders, call for billable service and parts, and or manage their run away print expenses. Stewart's 60+ technicians take responsibility for all service and repair, while Stewart's operations supplies all consumables at no additional charge. One call takes care of it all.

STEWART BUSINESS SYSTEMS' President Joe O Malley commented, "Our exclusive Printegration™ Program, its development and presentation to our customers has been met with overwhelming excitement and success. All of our customers have printers installed and are thrilled to know that they can place their existing printers under contract with our award winning service organization and at the same time experience significant operational savings". Many of Stewart's clients are experiencing savings of up to 30%.
